

Yahav Avramov,

Front End Developer

About me

I am a dedicated software developer with a deep passion for front-end development. My expertise in TypeScript and JavaScript allows me to craft compelling user interfaces. From the feedback that I get, I excel under pressure, efficiently managing deadlines for quality outcomes. Continuously staying updated with industry trends, I proactively engage within teams. I believe in my abilities to contribute to any company and my willingness to absorb new knowledge and improve with each opportunity. Confident in my capacity to contribute effectively, I look forward to the journey ahead as a Software Developer.

Work Experience

YOW – Start: Feb – 2023 - present

As a Front-End Developer at YOW, I collaborate closely with a seasoned developer boasting 30 years of experience in the field. Together, we enhance our AI-powered platform for efficient OKR (Objectives and Key Results) management. Leveraging Angular (versions 13-14), HTML, and SCSS, I focus on the OKRs page, introducing dynamic graphs for progress visualization, implementing drag-and-drop functionality, and creating a recursive tree structure for objectives. My contributions streamline goal tracking and amplify user experience, aligning with YOW's mission to revolutionize organizational goal setting.
